Explain potential conflict(s):

1. Honesty, Integrity, Open-minded, Hard working, Creative

These are the qualities that we feel are essential for all of us to value and share in order for this to be a successful experience. Briefly describe a personal situation when one of these qualities was highlighted for you.

2. What is a strength of yours that you would offer to this experience?

3. What are 3 ways that you spend your time, when you are not in school or working on schoolwork?

4. Society is determined by how it treats its most vulnerable people.

This project is looking into a foundational problem within our country. This crisis deeply affects the lives of many individuals and families.

Are you committed to and comfortable with listening and learning to others about this very sensitive issue? Share what qualities you think are necessary in order to listen and learn.

5. Are you comfortable and willing to learn as much about yourself and your biases (prejudices) and perspectives as about others? Explain how you know this about yourself.

6. What interests you about this program? Why are you applying?
